

Dear Friends,

December 20, 2018

For many of us, the holidays are a time to give thanks, take stock and look forward to a new year. We at Nuclear Watch are doing just that – and we want you to know how grateful we are for your support. Without you, we couldn't make important strides toward building a safer world and a safer New Mexico.

At a time when sensibilities are being challenged on every front, our well-informed analysis and advocacy are needed now more than ever. We all can have the world we deserve, as long as we work toward it. Our ultimate goal is a world free of the scourge of nuclear weapons, something that every president pays lip service to, but we want it for real!

There is a ray of hope.

As New Mexico's political landscape begins to shift under a new governor, we have increased hope that we can better protect the environment as well.

It won't happen without you and us, we can't take our hands off the wheel. But we think the new ride will be smoother for progressive citizens.

Again, thank you for all your support this past year (and it's not too late to send a tax-deductible contribution before the end of this year). We are poised to make ever-greater progress toward the light in 2019!

Jay and Scott
